

Hard Knock Life

Kendall Royster

Have you ever wonder what life be like if you saw it through someone else eyes? Every day I see my mom frustrated with work and her ruff day but I just keep it moving. But when this project was handed to me I realize that my mom does a lot for my family. So when day one came I didn't know what I was going to do this project until it hit me when sitting eating cheerios with my mom.

So thought I could give her the night off by doing the dishes, cleaning the refrigerator, sweep the floor, clean the living room and folding her cloths. That night walked home and just did what I had to do so while I was cleaning I kept thinking to myself that my mom had to do this every night it made me feel bad that I lev't her with all these things. So later that night I folded my mom cloth she was knockout (sleep) I've never seen her so well rested in years the next morning after all that cleaning and stuff I just wanted to wake up and chill with my friend and play basketball.

So that what I did I went to the courts and played basketball I played a couple games and realize that my friend couldn't play defense so I took a pound myself to teach him. That was one of the roughest days of my life. Teach people something is no joke I see how teachers feel now. It especially hard when they don't know there doing so I just started out with the basic like how to steal and how stop the triple threat. But later in the day it got hard when I was trying teach him advance moves like how stop the pick and roll. Also since he wasn't big I had to teach him to press up on. Then he just stop listing and walked away so.

So as the days go by you will never know how hard someone life is unless you live it and also if I've done nothing for you to day can I at least inspire you to do a random act of kindness like give a homeless guy/girl a five dollar gift card to McDonalds to you it maybe nothing but to them it maybe the world thank you for listing and have a nice day
